Details: Card creator Lauren McPherson is proud to announce the grand opening of her second card and stationary store of her successful Clothesline Cards & Stationary. The business has had such an overwhelming response at their Connecticut location and on the website that the team has decided to expand down the east coast. Clothesline Cards & Stationary offers a wide selection of hand-crafted cards from birth announcements to wedding save-the-date memos to just-because cards. Not only is there a full stock of pre-designed cards and stationary, but also orders accepted for personalized material. Clothesline specializes in personal made-to-order wedding announcements, save-the-date memos, and table place cards with chic and elegant options for any bride's taste. The opportunities are endless with the styles, colors, and personal touches that Clothesline has to offer for the Charlotte area and beyond.

Directions: Located in Charlotte's shopping district between Main Street and Veranda Boulevard, Clothesline's new store is across from The Charlotte Chronicles office on Farmington Lane. The colorful storefront flower boxes accent the sunshine atmosphere inside. Parking is available on the street with additional parking in the back lot.
